This is UNEVALUATED Information

SOURCE EVALUATIONS ARE DEFINITIVE APPRAISAL OF CONTENT IS TENTATIVE.

1. After the Central Committee of the Hungarian Communist Party made the decision to oust Nagy as Premier, a pamphlet pertaining to the meeting was distributed to all Party secretaries. Although the 23-page pamphlet, classified Top Secret, did not contain the full debate on the subject, it did include Rakosi's speech and his answers to questions. This content was sufficient to reveal that Rakosi was fiercely attacked for sabotaging the policy of collective leadership. The pamphlet also disclosed that one of the significant accusations levelled at Nagy was that of discrimination against the AVH (State Security Authority).
2. During the course of the intra-Party strife, Nagy distributed to the leadership a circular attacking Rakosi. The circular enabled Rakosi to determine his loyal friends, as they telephoned him to warn of its distribution.
3. It appears that the supporters of Nagy included Lajos Kocs, member of the Political Committee, and Zoltán Vas. According to rumor, Vas, recently appointed to the Ministry of Foreign Trade, will soon be banished again.
